Solano county votes for Supervisors on Wednesday, the 2d of September.

The burnt district of Vacca is rebuilt, and improves the looks of the town very much.

Articles of incorporation have been adopted for the Santa Barbara Hotel Company; capital stock, $100,000.

The wheat warehouse of Napa begins to show signs of activity. About 100 tons of wheat have been received from Berryessa.

The North Star Flouring Mills at Tehama started on Monday, the 13th instant, on new wheat, and are now turning out large quantities of fine flour.

The work on another vessel was begun Tuesday, near Greenwood's wharf, Vallejo, by Mr. Harvey. The new vessel will be about 35 feet long, with 15 feet beam.

The amount of sweet-corn in Solano county this year is very great, it is a drop in the markets of the interior towns, and at Salinas can be bought at almost any price.

The Lassen Advocate learns from C. B. McClelland, of Milford, that the farmers in that vicinity are well advanced in their haymaking, and will commence harvesting their grain this week.

According to the Vallejo Independent, the wheat crop throughout Solano county does not turn out as heavy as it was thought it would two months ago, yet the yield is larger than it was last year.

Suisun, the county seat of Solano, is very dull at present. The storekeepers think the dullness is owing to the fact that now the Grangers buy all their goods through their San Francisco agency.

Parties have struck very rich placer mines in the hills above Mountain Meadows, Lassen county. It is said that the deposit is quite extensive and several claims have been taken up which prospect first-rate.

The contract for building the bridges over Putah creek, which are to be owned by the State, has been awarded by the State to E. D. Sawyer, of Napa, for the sum of $675 per foot. The bid of the California Bridge Company was $795 per foot.

Thompson, the missing Sacramento box-maker, is still "wanted." Report has it that he has gone to Panama. The creditors are running the box-maker, they having appointed a receiver to look after the business.

Simpson & Sultz Bro. have finished threshing on the Buckeye ranch, Tehama county. The total yield is 7,442 sacks of wheat. The number of acres harvested was 400. The average yield to the acre is a fraction over forty bushels.

Says the Sierra Mountain Messenger of Saturday: "Recently a diamond was found by A. L. Emerson in Strawberry Valley, Yuba county, which weighed one and a half carats. It has a yellow shade, similar to one discovered by Col. Baker at Gardner's point, in this county."

Stimulated by the success of beet-sugar works in Sacramento and encouraged by the fact that there are around Davisville and Woodland is admirably adapted to the growth of the sugar beet, Dreisbach and other capitalists of Davisville have concluded to organize a company for the purpose of starting sugar-works at that place.

Oregon Items.

Benton, Linn and Lane counties have purchased fifty threshing-machines this year.

Eighteen Linn county Grangers made up a club and sent to Moline, Ill., for wagons.

J. J. Scafford sheared 25½ pounds of wool from a pair of twin lambs, last week, in Linn county.

The Willamette Woolen Manufacturing Company have purchased about two hundred thousand pounds of wool this season.

The crops in Ochoce, Eastern Oregon, are doing well, and sheep and cattle are rolling fat. A number of settlers are going in there to stay.

The owners of the large warehouse at Albany offer a premium of fifty dollars for the best lot of 1,000 bushels of wheat stored with them during the season.

The Oregon Conference of the M. F. Church will meet at Salem, September 10th, instead of at Tangent, as has been reported. Bishop Pierce will preside.

A gentleman who has just made the trip from the California line to Portland on horseback, examining the country, reports the crops as excellent in prospect anything he ever witnessed.

There is a farmer living not many miles from McMinnville who owns 1,120 acres of land which he became possessed of in the following advantageous modes: He first secured 640 acres under the donation law; afterward he pre-empted 160 acres; then he took up 160 acres under the homestead law, and finally he purchased 160 acres of school land, at $1 25 per acre.

ARIZONA.

Indian Affairs—Major Randall After Renegades from Apache Reserve—Cattle Thieves Overhauled.

Prescott, July 22.—Telegrams received from the San Carlos Reservation yesterday convey information to the effect that Major Randall had left the post on an expedition into the Gila river, where he hoped to find the renegades of a band of renegades from Camp Apache Reservation.

Nothing has been heard from the parties in search of the renegade chief, Chuntz.

It will be remembered that about a month ago some stock belonging to Leopold Carillo of Tucson was driven off near Camp Lowell by a party of Indians, whose trail was promptly followed by Capt. Hamilton, with his company of the Fifth Cavalry, until the Apaches, as they proved to be, were apprehended. Capt. Hamilton found the meat of the slaughtered animals in their possession and would have taken them back to Camp Lowell for sale, only that they claimed to be acting under orders from the commanding officer at San Carlos. Upon this, Capt. Hamilton sent a courier to apprise Major Randall of the behavior of these Indians and enable him to take the necessary steps to bring them to punishment. Upon their return to San Carlos, Major Randall singled out the guilty ones and confined them in the guard-house.

MARICOPA, July 20.—Companies D and E, 23d Infantry, arrived here this morning, on the way to Yuma. It is reported that two soldiers belonging to Capt. Pollock's command from Camp McDowell, died at Mohawk Station from sunstroke.

PHOENIX, July 21.—The store of Irvine & Co. was robbed last night; the money-till emptied and articles taken. Some men employed on the ranch of G. Dennis are this morning minus their pistols, saddles and clothing, the same having disappeared during the night. Mr. J. J. Gardner and James Murray are each missing a good horse this morning, supposed to have been stolen last night.

The Sacramento Beet Sugar Company has 200 acres of beets near Davisville. They were attacked by the army worms and grasshoppers, but no great injury has been inflicted. Last Saturday a load of turkeys—about 500—were let loose in the field, and they have nearly cleaned the country of the pests. The beets at Davisville will yield finely, from thirty to forty tons to the acre, and are of the best size adapted to the use of sugar-makers.

During three or four weeks of the busiest part of the season, the shipments of alfalfa and vegetables from Davisville averaged fifty tons a day, and they still average about thirty.

Another Manufactory.

Mr. QUINN appeared before the Council at its meeting on Thursday in behalf of the Grangers in the southern part of the county, to know what encouragement could be obtained from this city toward the construction of a paper mill here. Mr. SOUTHWORTH also read a letter from parties in Chicago making inquiries as to the facilities for establishing a paper mill in this city or valley. The paper mill proposition was urged by the HERALD nearly four months ago and our articles on the subject brought letters from a number of parties who proposed to establish the business here if proper encouragement was offered. We do not know what encouragement is required. We think it would hardly be the thing for the people of this city or valley to furnish the funds for building a paper mill and then give it away. The opening for the business is here, and the person who improves the opportunity will find a splendid investment for his money. We are informed that ten thousand dollars will pay for the machinery and set in operation a wrapping-paper mill. This is not a large sum, yet its investment will build up a fine paying business. We have no objection to our people giving the whole amount required to start such a paper mill, but we see no reason why they should give it away. The Grangers of this valley can build a paper mill themselves at a small cost from each, but when they have done so they should retain the property in their own possession. We cannot expect anyone to come here and put up a first-class paper mill. The cost of such a mill is heavy and it would not pay after it was put in operation; but a wrapping-paper mill costs but little money, and will pay handsomely from the start.

The "Herald's" Correctness.

Under date of Anaheim, July 21st, a gentleman writes to the editor of the HERALD, as follows: "I have been in Los Angeles Valley now about five weeks. My home is near Springfield, Illinois. I was in the main induced to visit California through reading the Weekly HERALD. I read each number carefully, and while I saw there was much in Southern California to render living easy and home comfortable, I naturally concluded that your pictures were overdrawn, that your soil was not so rich, your climate so delightful, nor your products quite so great as you represented them. My short sojourn in this valley has convinced me that you did not overpaint a single description. I have seen all that I read about, and more, and I write this note to acknowledge the injustice of holding you as an enthusiast looking through magnifying glasses that fit only your own eyes." We read the above note with a great deal of pleasure, for the reason that we found in it an indorsement of the HERALD's policy. We have endeavored from the outset to keep truth on our side, and while saying all that could be said in favor of our beautiful valley, yet to say nothing that could be construed into misrepresentation. There is no doubt but that almost anyone living in the East, who has never informed himself as to California climate and soil, will find it difficult to believe the bare facts concerning this portion of the State. The contrast is so striking and the advantages so great, in favor of California, that it is a pardonable offense on the part of the Eastern man if he doubts our statements sometimes. All we ask of the doubtful is that they shall, like the author of the above note, come and see for themselves. If they find we have overdrawn a single picture we shall be pleased to have them say so.

Indorses the Press Gag Law.

In his remarks before rendering his opinion in the McCormick case at San Diego the other day, Commissioner HOFFMAN took occasion to administer a severe reproof to the Union of that place, which he said had published an article apparently intended to influence his decision. This was very well; perhaps the Union's zealous friendship for the accused led to the commission of an indiscretion; but when Mr. Commissioner HOFFMAN permitted himself to use the following language he evinced a weakness which proves him unqualified for the position he holds, and the victim of a hatred for the press which is shared by BEN BUTLER, BOSS SHEPHERD, BOSS TWEED, General HOWARD and many others. He said: "But of late there has been a sort of Communistic spirit of the press growing up in this country—a sort of an idea that the press must lead and direct in all things—that I am very sorry to see, as it can but lead to bad results, and has already caused Congressional notice to it. It is my candid opinion that the press had, in these respects, better let the Courts alone. It is bad enough for it to debauch itself, without trying to drag and gag in its foul train a hitherto respectable branch of the Government."

THE Argentine Republic has employed General S. P. T. BEAUREGARD as chief engineer. We hope the General will engineer the Argentine craft more successfully than he did the job he undertook in the South some years ago. His salary now is $20,000 per annum.

The Aspect Now.

BEECHER denies the whole thing. This is just what we expected he would do. He could not very well adopt any other course. Mrs. TILTON will deny the whole thing. She cannot consistently with her good name very well do anything else. This was to have been expected, and unless TILTON is the demoted nunny they are trying to make him appear, he has not gone into this matter without other evidence than what he will ask the world to accept on his ipse dixit. He will find himself more powerless than King CANUTE if he attempts to stay the wave of public opinion on his bare command. He will assert, and BEECHER and Mrs. TILTON will both deny. BEECHER has more and more powerful friends than TILTON, and Mrs. TILTON is young and pretty. She has the sympathy of all the men and the envy of many of the women. TILTON stands alone. He may be a much wronged man, but if Mrs. WOODHULL tells the truth, Mrs. TILTON is a much wronged woman. Mere repetition of his wrongs will do Mr. TILTON no good. His word is worth just nothing in this controversy. He appears as the prosecutor, and he must prove his charges or his case falls to the ground. BEECHER has published a card in which he pleads not guilty to TILTON's indictment, and now we await the proof. In opening the case, TILTON said what he expected to prove, and stated that he should prove what he intended to prove by letters written and signed by BEECHER and Mrs. TILTON. If he has these letters, he wins the fight; if he has them not, he fails, and his failure will secure him the detestation of his fellow-men and a cell in an insane asylum.

The National Educational Association met in Washington on the 29th of January last. It was an interesting meeting of intelligent men. On the second day President BINFORD expressed his gratification that the assemblage was honored by the presence of such a distinguished personage as Hon. A. R. SHEPHERD, Governor of the District of Columbia. Governor "Boss" SHEPHERD responded in the usual spread-eagle style, and everything was lovely. In the light of subsequent events—in the remembrance that this distinguished Governor has turned out to be a swindler on a large scale—the honor of his presence among a party of honest school teachers is more than questionable.

The Board of Supervisors of this county is sitting as a Board of Equalization. The Board is waited upon by a committee appointed by the Grangers. This committee is composed of three members appointed by the District Council and others appointed by the subordinate Granges. The business of this committee is to secure as far as possible an equalization of taxation. So far but little has been accomplished, though it is possible much good may result from a hearty co-operation of the Board and the Granger Committee. The request of the farmers is reasonable, and no property owner can reasonably refuse to bear his pro rata of taxation.

JAMES LICK has no doubt done many mean things. A man who accumulates three million dollars must necessarily commit many sins—so many and so black in character that he can have no hope of Heaven; but that LICK should be ridiculed and caricatured as he was in last Sunday's Chronicle, seems almost like retributive justice. The picture looks like that of a burly African with a hole cut over the right eye.

THE OIL REGION.

The Different Claims—The Prospect on Each—Oil Everywhere.

EDITOR HERALD:—The San Fernando oil springs are situated about thirty miles from Los Angeles on the northern slope of the San Fernando mountains. There are a great many springs, none of which have been developed to any great extent. The natural flow of oil from these springs is quite large and is an excellent indication of their future wealth. The well on the Temple claim is now down fifty feet, and the prospects are very good. Mr. Spangler the Superintendent, has already performed a vast amount of labor in getting things ready to work, and he deserves the sincere thanks of all men interested in oil for his effort to develop this region. There is oil in large quantities on the claim and in the immediate vicinity. The Moore claim is situated adjoining the Temple, and is also a very fine claim. It was recently discovered by C. A. Moore, of Los Angeles, and will be developed immediately. Oil has been discovered on the highest summit of the San Fernando range, on the Wilson claim. The Wilson is one of the best claims in the district, situated as it is on the main lead that runs from the celebrated Moore Spring to the Wiley Wells. The flow of oil on the Moore is quite large; it is the property of Messrs. M. W. Childs, Sanford Lyon and C. Leaning. The Rice claim, owned by Dr. Geleish, is overflowing with oil, the tunnels being all filled. It is now running to waste—there being nothing to save it in. The immense resources of this region cannot be over-estimated, and it will soon show results that will be astonishing. Men of enterprise are now at work. Little was known of these oil deposits by Americans, previous to 1865. This was known by the Mexicans as the region of bad water, and was considered by them as entirely worthless. Until recently their existence was scarcely known outside of this vicinity, but now they are attracting a good deal of attention. The fact that we have an oil field of unlimited extent in our midst, only waiting for its development to make it rank second to none in the country, seems to have been found out at last. OBSERVER.
